Praise God From Whom All Blessings Flow

CM put up its thanksgiving tree before November this year. With colorful leaves, the children wrote their thanks to God. Some things they are thankful for:

- Mom and Dad
- Mom & Amie Huang
- My dog
- Everything
- Sleep
- The man who invented ramen
- God forgiving our sins and loving us
- Computer games
- Food
- My brother
- A brain
- Jesus

What are you thankful for? Sometimes we take God's blessings for granted. Only as we start listing it out do we realize God's great goodness in our life! Take time to thank Him this season.

Children are a blessing and a gift from the Lord.

Psalm 127:3 (CEV)

Introducing Maggie Chang

Maggie started working with Children’s Ministry more than a year ago as we started meeting in person outdoors. She came each week to clean toys and help set up chairs in the back yard of the 524 house. This fall, Maggie has been volunteering four mornings a week, helping and learning about children’s ministry.

Working with the DCCC children’s ministry has been an unexpected yet valuable learning experience for me. Being an older sibling and the eldest kid in a fellowship, I’ve always had some cursory experience with helping younger children, but given my reclusive personality, I never considered being part of a program dedicated to teaching kids. Regardless, it felt like the natural progression from helping at fellowship meetings, so I set my doubts aside and volunteered to be a class assistant.

As it turns out, there is far more to a Sunday school lesson than I had ever anticipated. Between organizing events, making materials, and leading the classes themselves, plenty of hard work is dedicated to making this program what it is today. It’s very humbling to be a small part of something so special.

Some of you may have seen my projects around the church already. I constructed the thanksgiving tree as well as the photo frames for our church families. I also have a long-term objective, tied to the Sunday school lesson plan, that I’m hoping to produce results for soon. I look forward to continuing to work with the church, and I’ll always be grateful to the children’s ministry for giving me this unique opportunity.

Do you love kids?

Come play with and bless our little people. Our 9:00 am Shining Stars class is growing and we need teachers and assistants to help out with this group of youngsters.
